Response to Amendment

1. The applicant's amendment/arguments filed December 22, 2003 have been fully considered but are moot in view of new grounds of rejection necessitated by the applicant's amendment. The pending amendment cancels claims 1-5 and 12-18.

Response to Arguments

2. As to the applicant's arguments regarding claims 7 and 19 are persuasive and the rejection of claims 7 and 19 is being withdrawn. As to applicant's arguments regarding claims 6 and 8-11 have been fully considered but are not deemed to be persuasive. Kara disclose a system for printing personalized postage indicia that would: "automatically calculate the postage due for specific greeting card, print the postage amount as a meter stamp, interact with the customer to generate a personalized stamp indicia, encrypt selected information into a machine readable format, and print the information entered by the customer in a selected format" (emphasis added). Additionally, Kara discloses the use of E-STAMP to address the issues related to theft, loss or degeneration due to mishandling or humidity (column 1, lines 55-60) without providing specific details regarding digital watermark. The use of digital watermark is well known to address some of the same issue as being disclosed by Rhoads (see figure 24, elements 970 and 972).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2625

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

2. Claims 6, 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Kara (US 5,717,597) in view of Rhoads (WO 96/36163) and Ramsay et al. (US 5,502,576).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

Regarding claims 6-8, Kara discloses a typical mail envelop with optical indicia (Figure 16B) without specific details representing fragile digital watermark representing plural bits of digital data to evidence scanning and printing.

In the same field of endeavor, however, Rhoads discloses digital watermark representing plural bits of digital data (see Rhoads pages 20 and 101) being applied as a tags to a mail item surface and Ramsay discloses a document processing system comprising fragile watermark on the document (see Ramsay, column 8, lines 35-50) designed to evidence reproduction by scanning and printing (see Rhoads, pages 67-68).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use fragile digital watermark as taught by Rhoads and Ramsay in the mail processing system of Kara because Rhoads and Ramsay provide Kara with a most interactive, secured and hybrid document processing system. Such hybrid document processing system would greatly benefit Kara by providing advantages associated with analog and digital document processing (scanning, printing, transmission and storage).

Regarding claim 9, Kara discloses the step of encoding taking the form of printing the envelope (figure 1B, element 19).

Regarding claims 10-11, Kara discloses the printing designed with ink designed for sensing in the ultraviolet or infrared spectra (column 6, line 66 through column 7, line 15; also see Rhoads, figure 30).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Applicant's arguments filed December 22, 2003 (pages 5 and 7) with respect to claims 7 and 19 are persuasive. The rejection of claims 7 and 19 has been withdrawn.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
